The London Gazette.

Published by Authority.

From Tuesday June 18. to Saturday June 22. 1745.

AT the Council Chamber Whitehall, the 18th Day of June 1745.

PRESENT,

Their Excellencies the Lords Juſtices in Council.

Their Excellencies the Lords Juſtices in Council were this Day pleaſed to order, that the Parliament which ſtands prorogued to Thurſday the Twentieth of this Inſtant June, ſhould be further prorogued to Thurſday the Twenty Second Day of Auguſt next.

Stockholm, June 4, N. S. On Monday next the 10th Inſtant, the King of Sweden propoſes to ſet out for Scania, where, after reviewing ſome Regiments, he will drink the Waters of Helſinbourg, ſo that his Swediſh Majeſty is not expected back in leſs than eight or ten Weeks. The Report of the Princeſs's having had a ſecond Miſcarriage, proves a Miſtake.

Naples, June 1, N. S. The Number of Horſe which the Barons of this Kingdom had reſpectively furniſhed to the King, not being thought ſufficient, freſh Directions have been ſent to the ſaid Barons to ſupply a greater Number to compleat the King's Cavalry. The Convoy of 52 Tranſports, many of which have Stables and other Conveniencies on Board to Tranſport Cavalry, after they had embarked Proviſions and other Neceſſaries at Procida, for the Uſe of the Spaniſh and Neapolitan Troops, ſailed on the 28th paſt from that Iſland Weſtward, 'tis ſaid for Orbitello or the Coaſt of Genoa, ſo that all Embarkations at Naples, both by Sea and Land, are for the preſent ceaſed. The Duke Barretta, Agent Victualler of the Spaniſh and Neapolitan Troops, has hired ſeveral Veſſels to load, at the different Ports of this Kingdom, Wheat and Barley for the Uſe of the ſaid Troops.

Rome, June 5, N. S. We have Advice from Mont Alto, that the Train of 30 Field Pieces, and their Utenſils, which M. de Gages left in the Romagna, are arrived there in their Way to Orbitello. A Body of 2000 Men from Naples are ſhortly expected to enter the Eccleſiaſtical State, with Directions to join thoſe that are there already, in order to watch the Motions of the Auſtrians, and to guard the Paſſages that leads into the Kingdom of Naples.

Florence, June 8, N. S. The Body of Spaniſh and Neapolitan Troops at Viterbo, conſiſting of Invalids, and the Troops that eſcorted them and the Field Artillery, which ſeparated from M. de Gages's Army at Montale, when he took the Reſolution to march over the Mountains into the State of Genoa, and to which have ſince been added many Piquets that were diſperſed in the Pope's State, and others from Naples, are now increaſed to above 6000 Men, and the Spaniſh Conſul has lately been here to demand a Paſſage for them thro' Tuſcany, which this Regency has granted, on Condition that they ſhould march in ſmall Parties, and with an Interval of ſome Time between each Party. The Spaniſh Conſul not having Authority to accept of thoſe Conditions, was forced to wait for freſh Orders from Naples and from M. de Gages. The Spaniſh and Neapolitan Troops under the Duke of Modena and M. de Gages, in the Neighbourhood of Genoa, have begun to make ſome Motions in order to join thoſe of Don Philip. Prince Lobcowitz's Army increaſes daily, and is now ſuppoſed to amount to 25,000 Men; it continues ſtill at Fireuzola, but 'twas expected it would ſoon move to Cremona for the Conveniency of Forage.

Dreſden, June 16, N. S. A Courier is arrived from the Duke of Weiſſenfels, with an Account, that his Highneſs was on the 11th Inſtant at Schurtz, and intended to march the next Day from thence to Jorothitz, and Prince Charles at Neuſtat, between which Places their Armies were to encamp. They ſeem to have nothing to fear, and only wait for their Reinforcements to recommence their Operations. 'Tis ſaid the Queen of Hungary will ſend ten Battalions and 8000 Croatians, and the Duke of Weiſſenfels will will have 1200 Horſe, and his whole Army recruited in three Weeks at f.. theſt. The Saxons loſt 27 Pieces of Cannon in the late Action near Strigau; to ſupply which, 20 are to be ſent To-day, and the reſt will follow in about a Fortnight. Some Accounts ſay, that the Pruſſians loſt near 12000 Men in the ſaid Action; that their main Body was in the Neighbourhood of Glatz, and a Detachment had entred Bohemia. The following Particulars of the late Action have been received from the Army. The 2d of June, the Army marched from Landſhut to Bolkenhain, where we joined that of Prince Charles, which extended on our Right towards Reichenau, where the Prince had his Head Quarters. The Duke took up his in the City of Bolkenhain. The next Day, the 3d, all the Combined Army continued its March towards Strigau, and in the Poſition it was that Day, the Right Wing was ſupported by Quolſdorff, and the Left extended towards Schweinhauſen. Our Head Quarters were at Rohnſtock, a Caſtle belonging to Count Hohberg, and thoſe of Prince Charles at Froiberg in the Dioceſe of the City of Schweidnitz. We learn'd at Night, that a Body of Pruſſians, reckoned to be compos'd of 12 or 15000 Men, under the Command of Lieutenant General du Moulin, was advancing towards us; we judged that it might be the advanc'd Guard of the Pruſſians, though notwithſtanding the advanc'd Patroles of Tartars, we had no News of the Motions of the Groſs of the Army. Our Troops formed themſelves between Hohen-Friedberg and Eiſdorff, in Order of Battle, as they came up, and we continued all Night under Arms. The City of Strigau was in our Front. The 4th, by Break of Day, the King of Pruſſia appeared on a ſudden at the Head of his whole Army, which he had cauſed to march the Evening before, and all Night, as we have learn'd ſince. He offered us Battle, and made his principal Efforts againſt the Left Wing of the Combined Army, which was compoſed of our Troops. By Three o'Clock in the Morning the Duke was there, and the Cannonading began on both Sides. The Battle followed ſoon after, and the Right Wing of the Pruſſians was at firſt repulſed. Our Grenadiers had got upon an Eminence in our Flank; but the Pruſſian great Artillery obliged them to retire from thence, and this Poſt was afterwards made uſe for erecting Batteries againſt us. Our Horſe, notwithſtanding their Fire, attacked ſeveral Times, and diſputed the Ground with great Obſtinacy for a long while; but as upon account of our Poſition our great Artillery could not come up to ſupport the Grenadiers who covered the Left Wing, they were compelled to fall into the ſame Line with the Infantry, and the Action, which thereupon became general, laſted five Hours. The Pruſſians had the Advantage from the ſuperior Number of their Troops, of a larger Front; however, we prevented the Execution of their Deſign to take us in Flank, and the Left Wing of our two Lines of Foot very opportunely obey'd the Orders given them for that Purpoſe; but as the whole Right Wing of the Combined Army was very ſoon after obliged to give Ground, and we thereupon ran the Risk of being ſurrounded on all Sides, we were under a Neceſſity of retiring. The Retreat was made in good Order, and without any Diſturbance. We halted at Halbendorff three Hours, and proceeded from thence to Reichenau. We loſt 2000 Men, excluſive of 700 wounded; amongſt the latter are the Lieutenant Generals Birckholtz, Polentz, Renard; the Major Generals Durfeld, Schlichting, and the Prince of Schwartzburg-Sonderhauſen. Lieutenant General Jaſmund had two Horſes killed under him, and his Sword was ſtruck out of his Hand by a Cannon-Ball. The Colonels Conſpruck, of Foot, Beſtenboſtel and Gerſdorff, of Cuiraſſiers, are killed, as alſo the Lieutenant Colonels Vitzthum d'Obyrn, and Chmielinsky of Saxe-Gotha. The Prince of Saxe Coburg, Major General Schlichting, the Colonels Shoemberg and Munchow, and Lieutenant Colonel Gerſdorff, are miſſing. We believe that they are taken Priſoners, together with the four Companies of Grenadiers who had the Misfortune to be cut off from the Army during the Action. Beſides the Generals and Officers before-mentioned, there are many Subalterns wounded, of whom we were ignorant, whether they are killed or made Priſoners. The Lieutenant Colonels Count Frieſen, Palen and Gerſdorff, who with Colonel Schomberg commanded the four Battalions of our Grenadiers, diſtinguiſhed themſelves, and kept their Poſts with the greateſt Reſolution and Bravery till the laſt Moment. In general, we have great Reaſon to be ſatisfied with the good Conduct of the Officers, and the Ardour and good Countenance ſhewn by the Soldiers, as well in the Action as the Retreat. The Ditches and Marſhes which we had to paſs thro', obliged us to abandon ſeveral Pieces of Cannon, the Carriages of which were broken, and the Men and Horſes belonging to them either killed or diſperſed. We ought not to forget, that beſides the Advantage of Ground which the Pruſſians had over us, the Sun ſhone ſo ſtrong in the Eyes of our Soldiers, and the Wind blew the Smoke ſo thick upon us, that we could not diſcern the different Motions and Diſpoſitions which the Enemy made during the Attack. According to the Reports of Deſerters, their Loſs is more conſiderable than ours. Their Gendarmes are ſaid to be entirely defeated, as well as eight Regiments of Horſe, and the beſt Regiments of Foot, ſuch as that of the King, of the Prince of Anhalt Deſſau, and others, have ſuffered greatly. Prince Maurice of Deſſau, General Boddenbrugg, and General Truches, are counted amongſt the Dead of Diſtinction. They have likewiſe aſſured us, that their principal Attack had been formed againſt our Left Wing, which appears true, in as much as the Action, which begun there, was continued to the End of the Battle with the greateſt Briskneſs.

From the Head Quarters of the Saxon Army at Weſtetz, June 16. Upon the 13th of June, the Combined Army remained in their Camp between Jaromitz and Neuſtadt, the River of Metau being in the Front of the Right Wing, the Communication of which with our Wing on the Left of the Elbe, was preſerved by Bridges thrown over that River in ſeveral Places. The Pruſſians, who continue to march towards us, have puſhed their advanced Guards ſince Yeſterday as far as the Environs of Nachod and Slany, upon the Frontiers of Glatz. The main Body of their Army is poſted between Nachod and Starchſtadt.

By a Trumpet which the Duke of Weiſſenfels ſent to Prince Leopold of Anhalt Deſſau after the Battle, we have received the Liſt of our Officers who were taken Priſoners, at the Head of whom are Major General Schlichting and Colonel Munchow. Lieutenant Colonel Chmielinski, whom we had reckoned amongſt the Dead, is alſo amongſt the Priſoners, but dangerouſly wounded.

With reſpect to the Prince of Saxe-Coburg, Colonel Schoemberg, and Lieutenant Colonel de Gerſdorff, we cannot any longer reckon them in the Number of the Living, and it is very probable at preſent, that they were left upon the Field of Battle.

The Loſs in the Corps of 28 Squadrons and 11 Battalions of Auſtrians, who ſince the Junction of the two Armies have been under the Duke's Command, amounts in all to 1300 Men, beſides 200 Horſes.

The Loſs of the Pruſſians, by the Accounts of Deſerters who are daily coming in, amounts, ſome ſay, to 8000, others to 12000.

Upon the 14th, the Combined Army continued in Camp, our Advices concerning the Pruſſians agreeing, that they remained in the Neighbourhood of Nachod.

Upon the 15th, the heavy Baggage of the Army was ſent to Stoeſſer, and the Troops had Orders to hold themſelves in Readineſs to march the next Day.

Upon the 16th, the Combined Army having taken Poſt on the Left of the Elbe, which is at preſent in Front, and the Troops being encamped upon the riſing Grounds, from whence they are able to diſcern the Motions of the Pruſſians, if they think proper to advance, the Duke fixed his Quarters at Weſtetz, and Prince Charles his at Semoniz. Some Troops were left at Jaromitz and at Neuſtadt, and the advanced Guard of the Auſtrians is poſted behind the Metau. This Day the Pruſſians detached a Corps of Huſſars, ſome Horſe and Foot, with Cannon, towards Neuſtadt, where they attacked the advanc'd Poſts, but they were repulſed with Loſs, and their Project of taking Poſſeſſion of that Ground thereby diſconcerted.

Dreſden, June 20, N. S. The King of Poland has been pleaſed to promote Major General Durrfeld to the Rank of Lieutenant General of Horſe, and the Prince of Axthauſen to that of Lieutenant General of Foot. The Colonels Bonichau, Maſſe, Milckau, and de Buchner, are made Major Generals. M. Vitzthum d' Echſtedt, Colonel of Count Rutowski's Regiment of Dragoons, has Maſſe's Regiment of Cuiraſſiers, and the Lieutenant Colonels Crouſaz and Dyherrn are made Colonels, the firſt of Foot, and the laſt of Horſe. Count Khevenhuller is appointed one of her Hungarian Majeſty's Ambaſſadors to the Election at Francfort.

Dreſden, June, 20, N. S. By Letters from the Allied Army in Bohemia of the 16th we have Advice, that a large Corps of Pruſſians had been detached from their main Army to attack our advanc'd Poſts near Neuſtat, againſt which they fired ſome Cannon; but our Men keeping their Ground, and returning the Fire very briſkly, they thought proper to retire. By Information from Deſerters, the King of Pruſſia advanced upon the 17th to Jaromitz. Prince Charles has already received a Reinforcement of 4000 Men, and all the Artillery he wanted. Colonel Rex will reach the Army in leſs than a Fortnight with 1100 Horſe, as will 2400 Recruits from the Saxon Militia in a ſhort Time, when their Army will be again compleat. It is thought that his Pruſſian Majeſty muſt attack them ſooner or retreat, as he is now forced to have his Subſiſtance from his Magazines in Sileſia, principally from that of Schweidnitz. The Militia of this Country are to be augmented, and upwards of 60 Field Pieces to be caſt without Loſs of Time.

Dreſden, June 21, N. S. The Pruſſian Army is encamped within Sight of the Allies on the other Side of the River Metau, and have endeavoured by ſeveral Motions to make the Allies retreat, or change their Poſition. On the 17th his Pruſſian Majeſty marched with his whole Army almoſt within Cannon Shot of their Camp, but ſeeing they kept their Ground, and were ready to receive him, returned to his. It is ſaid here, that Prince Lobcowitz and General Brown are ordered to the Army in Bohemia.

Hambourg, June 23, N. S. The Saxon Troops, which are aſſembled under the Command of General Boſe, in the Neighbourhood of Leipſick, conſiſt of 20 Squadrons, 8 Troops of Uhlans, 18 Battalions, and their Artillery of 26 Field Pieces, 6 Cannon, and 2 Pieces of Ordnance called Haubitzen. The Pruſſians are encamped on a Plain at a ſmall Diſtance from Halle, and their Troops can be eaſily deſcried from a little Eminence contiguous to the Saxon Camp. The Sickneſs among the Cattle ſtill continues, and is in the Suburbs of this City.

Berlin, June 23, N. S. By the laſt Letters from our Army in Sileſia they were ſo near the Allies, that we are in hourly Expectation of another Battle. M. Schmettau has been recalled from his Baniſhment at Brandenbourg, but it is not yet ſaid that he has had any Command conferr'd upon him.

From the Camp of M. Bathiani at Wechterſbach, June 25. The firſt Column of Marſhal Traun's Army, conſiſting of three Regiments of Horſe, 13 Battalions, 2 Companies of Grenadiers, and 1000 Conſtadians, joined us the Day before Yeſterday, under the Command of the Prince of Birkenfeldt. The ſecond under that of M. Bernklau, conſiſting of two Regiments of Horſe, 14 Battalions, and nine Companies of Grenadiers is come up To-day. The third, with the Marſhal, conſiſts of four Regiments of Horſe, 15 Battalions, 12 Companies of Grenadiers, and 2000 Croats, and is to arrive after To-morrow. The Corps of General Tripps conſiſts in three Regiments of Huſſars, and 2000 Croats, and has Orders to ſtay on the other Side the Mayn about Millenberg, to amuſe and harraſs the Enemy until the entire Junction is perfected. The Marſhal has beſides 2000 Foot on their Way from Ingoldſtadt, who ought not to be above five Days March off. By Letters from the Mayn, Prince Conti was ſtill encamped with the main Body of his Army between Seligenſtadt and Diepurg, whilſt M. de la Fare and de la Motte were poſted with two other ſeparate Bodies higher up that River. His whole Army was reckoned to be near 50,000 ſtrong.

Venice, June 11, N. S. The Auſtrian Army in Italy was to decamp from Fiorenzula the 9th Inſtant, to advance nearer to the King of Sardinia, keeping Tortona on their Right. They have lately received ſeveral Reinforcements, and are computed to be 25000 effective Men. M. Schulemberg will reach the Army on Monday next, the 14th Inſtant, when Prince Lobkowitz will reſign the Command to him. The King of Sardinia's chief Camp is between Tortona and Serravalle; the reſt of his Troops are canton'd ſo as to form a Cordon that guards the Paſſes of the Mountains. Marſhal Maillebois arrived at Nice the 25th of laſt Month, and immediately a Council was held, at which Don Philip was preſent. The next Day eight Squadrons began their March, and the reſt of the Cavalry was to follow ſucceſſively by like Detachments. Don Philip left Nice the 1ſt Inſtant, and was to proceed along the Riviera by ſlow Journeys. M. de Gages continues ſtill in the Neighbourhood of the City of Genoa, where they have ſuffered much from a Scarcity of Proviſions, but they have been lately relieved by the Arrival of ſome Veſſels laden with Corn from Civita Vecchia. There are alſo arrived three Veſſels of the Imbarkation from Naples, with Artillery and Ammunition. It is ſaid they will not be able to open the Campaign before the End of this Month. General Pallavicini paſſed by here on Tueſday laſt in his Way to Milan.

Hague, June 25, N. S. The States have ordered all their Battalions in the Field to be compleated to 750 Men, by Draughts out of the Reſidue left at Home or in Garriſon, of the reſpective Regiments.

Hague, June 29, N. S. Major General Brakel, late Commandant of the Cittadel of Tournay, arrived here laſt Night from Ghent, and was to make his Report to their High-Mightineſſes as To-day. Lord Tyrawley ſet out for England the Day before Yeſterday, and Chevalier Oſorio this Morning for Hanover. Count Podewils, the Pruſſian Miniſter here, has preſented his Letters of Revocation, and received his Recredentials; but is not yet ſet out.
